The two men followed the trunk and directed Woodruff, who continued as the driver, to drive eastward to the lake to a certain point which Woodruff has designated to Capt. Schaack. The wagon headed for the lake, and in its depths the trunk and its contents would have been deposited had not the interruption come from the Lakeview policemen. This smashed the original plans. of the two men, and immediate steps were taken to get

OUT OF THE OFFICERS' WAY.

This was done by taking a circuitous route, which again brought them to the Evanston road. They had now been driving nearly an hour with their ghastly load, and one of the men suggested the sewer. A stop was made at the Fifty-ninth street intersection of the Evanston road. The top was taken off the manhole on the southeast corner and the trunk lifted from the wagon. It was then a new and unexpected difficulty presented itself. While it was possible to drop the trunk with the body into the lake, it became a physical impossibility to thus discerned itself. to the trunk with the body into the lake, it came a physical impossibility to thus dispase of the load in the manhole. It was relived to take the body out of the trunk and rop the body in the catch-basin and to return ith the trunk to the catch-basin and to return the the trunk was to be unlocked it was and that the key had been lost.

Williams said there was no more time to be st, and he kicked in the lid of the trunk he three lifted the body out and deposited it the sawer as it was found. The trunk was tain placed on the wagon. from the greatest to the smallest in importance. The chief witness was the milkman, Merkles. Said he:

"I passed the Carlson cottage, 1872 Ashland avenue, on the night of the murder. I saw a buggy containing two men and a white horse drive up to the door. The man seated on the left (the horse was facing north) jumped from his seat hastily and ran up the steps. He carried two packages. Before he had time to knock at the door it was opened, it appearing to me that some one was waiting inside the hallway. At the instant the man stepped inside the door the man in the buggy whipped up and drove rapidly north to the first street, when he turned west and was lost to sight. I had been driving past the cottage when I saw the man in the buggy get out and run up the steps and the buggy get out and run up the steps and the buggy get out and run up the steps and the buggy get out and run up the steps and the buggy drive. After attending to my business at a grocery near by I returned over the same road, past the cottage, on my way home. This was perhaps thirty-five minutes later. I saw a light in the cottage and heard a hammering or smashing sound."

It was plainly evident from the above testimony that the man who ran so rapidly up the stairway was Dr. Cronin, intent only on rendering succor to some dving man.

THE COTTAGE TENANTS. Young Carlson was the next witness for the "I was present when the furniture was brought to the cottage, two days after the rental, March 22. Two men, who called themselves Williams, unloaded the truck. The driver remained seated; he did not handle the goods. I casually stepped up to the driver to him in that language and he told me that he had brought the furniture from 117 Clark and discovered that he was a Swede. I spoke to him in that language and he told me that he had brought the furniture from 117 Clark street."

The story of the men who rented the cottage having formerly roomed at 117 Clark street, where the furniture was taken by A. H. Revel & Co., is thus verified. The next witness was one of importance. She was young Mrs. Carlson and was attired in deep black with a heavy mourning veil covering her face. Said she:

"I visited my mother-in-law March 20. While at their home—a cottage which sits in the rear of the fatal cottage—a man knocked at the door and entered. He came from the back part of the premises in the vicinity of Sullivan's barn or house. He said he desired to see the cottage which was for rent. Old Mr. Carlson took him over and showed him about the place. They returned, and the man said he would take the cottage, at the same time producing $12, the amount of the first month's rent. He gave his name as Frank Williams. While the receipt for the money was being made out, young Mr. Carlson asked Mr. Williams what was his business, calling or profession. This did not suit Williams, for he looked-sullenly at his questioner and at all of us, and then lowering his eyes, said: 'I am employed down town.' I remarked shortly after he left that he seemed mad at the question. When he departed he did not go to the front, toward Ashisnd avenue, but started over toward Sullivan's. He seemed anxious to get out of the house."

The description given by Mrs. Carlson tallies very closely with that given by Woodruff of the man he called King, and who, he said, gave nim the trunk hauling job. Mr. and Mrs. Conklin, at whose house Dr. Cronin boarded, were the next witnesses. They told how Dr. Cronin was driven away in a buggy with a white horse.

According to a morning paper there appears to be more in the story which Detective Coughlin told about the connection of the man whom he called Thomas Smith, from Houghton, Mich., than has been supposed. The man calls himself Willard Smith. The notes of Coughlin's statement to Mayor Creiger were produced before the Grand-jury yesterday and they placed Smith in an ugit position. His name, Willard, is not a baptismal one. It is one under which he was known in Chicago. He wisited the Chicago Avenne Station to inquire for Coughlin. Coughlin and himself immediately established intimate frelations. Smith really paid $3 to Coughlin as payment for the use of a buggy given on Coughlin's recommendations. This is established by the testimony of the desk Sergeant at the station. Smith has recently been keeping company with a somewhat frollesome young woman at a certain resort here. The same young woman is an intimate friend of a Pinkerton detective. She has given the detective some valuable pointers in reference to Smith. Smith shaved off his heavy coat of beard the day after the Cronin murder. The barber who did the shaving has given testimony. Smith threw away his slouch hat the same day. He bought a new one, that which he now wears. The hatter has been discovered and can be produced if it is deemed advisable.

"Hello, Willard," said Coughlin, when he

"Helio, Willard," said Coughlin, when he was confronted by Smith.

"Hello, Dan," replied Smith.

"Is this the Smith you meant when you stated that the buggy you ordered at Dinan's was for 'Tom Smith of Hancock, Mich.,' an old friend who had since gone to New Mexico?" asked Chief Hubbard.

"It is not," said Coughlin.

He affirmed this statement, and the Chief said to Smith: "I guess this ought to settle it."

Smith is under arrest.

THE INQUEST POSTPONED,
Coroner Hertz adjourned the Cronin inquest this morning to Monday morning next. No evidence was heard. The adjournment was taken at the suggestion of State's Attorney Longenecker, who was of the opinion that the taking of evidence in public might hamper the police in their work of investigating clews.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 29 .- A morning paper publishes a long story of the investigations of one of its reporters in Toronto. The point sought to be established is a connection between Charles Long, the reporter who sent out dispatches alleging that he had seen and talked with Dr. Cronin in Toronto, and W. J. Starkey, the Chicago lawyer, who has been in Toronto for a year or more a fugitive from justice, charged with jury bribing. The paper

The Clan-na-Gael in St. Louis.

The Clan-na-Gael, the society whose name has been mentioned so frequently in connection with this Cronin murder, is a secret Irish organization. Its object is said to be to liberate Ireland from English rule and according to Le Caron, who made the statement, the society numbers 24,000 in America. It has branches all over the country, but conducts its proceedings and business with such secresy that no one outside of the order knows who are its members except by mere conjecture. It is known to have a large membership in St. Louis, but just who its members are is "one of those things no fellow can find out." To-day Mr. Henry Bruns of 1518 Leffingwell avenue, appeared before Justice Hendricks and made affidavit to a peace warrant against Michael Moran, whom he charges with having called him (Mr. Bruns), vile names assuming a threatening attitude, placing his hand upon his hip pocket as if to draw a weapon and threat-ening to kill him. The disturbance ening to kill him. The disturbance occurred on last Wednesday at the grocery store of F. H. Portman, corner of Cass and Leffingwell avenues, and was the contingwell avenues, and was the control of a discussion on the Dr. Cronin murder. Mr. Bruns is a German-American while Mr. Moran, as his name indicates, is an Irishman. Both parties live in the same neighborhood and are well acquainted with each other. In the midst of the idiscussion Mr. Bruns, who saw no harm in passing a joke on the occasion, said to Moran: "I understand that your father was a Fenian," or words to that effect. This angered Mr. Moran, who began to abuse Bruns, and some uncomplimentary language was used on both sides. It was during this demonstration that Moran is said to have threatened the life of Mr. Bruns, and Mr. Bruns used language that led Mr. Moran to enter a $5,000 damage suit in the Circuit Court against Mr. Bruns for slander, which was noted in yesterday's Post-Disparch. Mr. Bruns is a member of the contracting and building firm of Bruns & Wiese, while Mr. Moran is President of the Moran Bolt & Nut Co. By the explosion of a can of gasoline at an early hour this morning Frank Lederly was severely burned about the head and face and may-tose the sight of one eye. Lederly was employed as a cook by Michael Foerstel, Briggs avenue and Clayton road, and while building a fire in the stove at about 5 a. m. became impatient and poured some gasoline upon the coals. The flames communicated to the can and an explosion followed. A disastrous fire was but narrowly averted. The injured man, who is but 21 years old and has no settled home, was sent to the City Hospital for treatment. may tose the sight of one eye. Lederly was

Man and Team Drowned.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch. Chamois, Mo., May 29.—About 4 o'clock vesterday afternoon a drowned team with a ached to them was discovered belov the ford of Doolan's Creek, a quarter of a mile from town. It has been ascertained that the driver was a young man, 22 years old, by the name of Campbell, who lives eight or ten miles south of this place, and as he cannot be found it is supposed he also was drowned in attempting to ford the creek, which is con-siderably swollen by the recent heavy rains.

their lands will be watched with the greatest interest by all the citizens of Dakota and Northern Wyoming," said Leonard K. Lavie of Cheyenne, a gentleman largely interested in cattle in both Territories. "Of course a large najority of the people of the Northwester Territories are strongly in favor of the purolder heads and those who have most at versal.

A FAVORITE HUNTING GROUND. "It is true that the Indians are asked to give ap but 9,000,000 acres, and that they will have over 11,000,000 left, but this means cutting off the best part of their hunting grounds, none too ample at the best, and will, unless all previous experience proves misleading, cause great want amon them at certain seasons of the year. The privations of the Indians could be endured by the average Westerner with not a little philosophy, if their sufferings were the only result, but we know that if they cannot live on their reservations they will help them selves from the adjoining ranches, and when on a thieving expedition the savages are almost certain to indulge themselves in a little murder. There thas been no trouble in this part of the country for years, but that is an indication that difficulties that can lead to war may easily arise. A freshly thrashed Indian is a very docile individual, but as a rule they have very short memories, and when undisturbed for several years get a most undue opinion of their own strength. WARLIKE TRIBES. "The tribes that inhabit the mountains now

"The tribes that inhabit the mountains now in controversy have always been among the most dangerous on the plains. The majority are Sioux, but the aggressive and turbulent element is found among the less numerous but far more daring and energetic Cheyennes. There are probably five Sioux to one Cheyenne, there being under three thousand of the latter; but most of the leaders belong to this tribe, and their influence is paramount. These are the men that leaders belong to this tribe, and their influence is paramount. These are the men that wiped out Custer and his command, and, as a matter of fact, they were never thoroughly beaten. The older warriors are not anxious to again try conclusions with the Government, but the young bucks, who have been brought up on the stories of the great battles on the Little Big Horn and the Rosebud are eager to measure their strength against the enemy that their fathers defeated, and can with difficulty be restrained by the older men.

LAST YEAR'S FAILURE.

and can with difficulty be restrained by the older men.

LAST YEAR'S FAILURE.

"The negotiations carriedon last summer had as bad an effect as can well be imagined. The commissioners indulged in some ill-advised threats that if the reservation was not given up peacefully it would be occupied forcibly. The fact that this acame to nothing is regarded by many as a sign of weakness, and has inclined thousands of the younger men to hold on to their lands at all hazards. Then the commissioners tried to set one party against another, as unwise a proceeding as could well have been conceived. Old Gall, who was out or sympathy with the greater part of his tribe, has become its most powerful chief, owing to his opposition to the whites, and his influence will be most seriously feit in every move made by the commission. Should a sale be effected, there will be a large discontented element ready to break out at the first pinch of hunger. The settlers who lare waiting to rush into the reservation will not stand having Indians hunting over their lands, trouble would be certain to result, and at any moment a thousand Sioux and Cheyenne horsemen may be hurled upon the settlers. The result would of course be that a fearful beating would be administered, but to pursue the broken bands into the Wind River and Bitter Root Mountains, the most rugged in the country, would be both difficult and dangerous. No trouble is likely to occur this year, but after a hard winter, if the Indians run short of food, they are likely to take the war path as soon as the grass is long enough to afford forage for their ponies. No reservation in the country contains such strong and formidable tribes, and not a few of us hope that they may be left undisturbed."

The Parnell Inquiry.

LONDON, May 29 .- Maurice Healy, membe of Parliament for Cork, was a witness before the Parnell Commission to-day. He admitted that the Cork branch of the League had received applications from other branches for lists of merchants who were members of the League in order that other merchants might be boycotted. Mr. Healy held that it was legitimate to place such a pressure upon shop-keepers.

legitimate to place such a pressure upon shopkeepers.

MR. BIGGAR.

Mr. Joseph Biggar, member of Parliament for West Cavan, testified that he had been a member of the Supreme Council of the Fenian Brotherhood but had been expelled in 1877 for advocating constitutional action.
He joined the Land League in 1878. He declared that the speech he made at Cork in the spring of 1889, in which he referred to the Anarchist Hartmann as having imitators in Ireland, had been misunderstood. As a fact, he had only warned the supporters of Whiggish candidates that the disgust of the people was likely to result in the use of dynamite. In a subsequent speech at Castleton he advised the people to take care that the land they occupied should be of no value to landgrabbers. He had further said that it was no part of the League's duty to recommend the shooting of the landlords, but that it was its duty to defend anybody charged with shooting landlords or their agents. He had said this because no confidence was placed in the administration of the law, and he had held that the League ought to defend prisoners whose crimes were the outcome of bad laws, He and Patrick Egan were the trustees of the funds of the League. He could not associate either Egan or Sheridan with outrages.

Mr. Biggar said he had contributed nothing

Mr. Biggar said he had contributed nothing Mr. Biggar said he had contributed nothing to the Fenian funds. His object in joining the Brotherhood was to obtain its assistance in Parliamentary elections. Sir Henry James cross-examined Mr. Biggar. Witness said he never took part in the work of the League. He never drew a check or saw a bank book. He did not know where the record of the money dealings of the League was kept nor did he even know why he had been associated with Egan as Treasurer. Just before the suppression of the Land League most of the books were removed. Thirty-two books had been handed to Mr. Boames, solicitor of the Times.

Presiding Judge Hannen remarked that this was the first time he had heard about these books. Sir Henry James said that it was a mistake. There were no such books in Mr. Soames' possession.

Mr. Biggar add that all the important books.

Mr. Biggar said that all the important books of the league had been removed to England.
They were very bulky. He did not know that any of the books had been destroyed. He had not the slightest notion of what had become of the missing documents.

LONDON, May 29 .- The Earl of Zetland has accepted the Viceroyship of Ireland.

THE UNIONISTS' PETITION. The deputation appointed by the meeting of Unionist members of the House of Lords and House of Commons held recently at the residence of the Marquis of Waterford, called on Lord Salisbury to-day and presented the peti-tion adopted by the meeting asking for the abolition of the Viceroyship of Ireiand and the transfer of its functions to a Secretary of State. In reply to the address of the petition-ers, Lord Salisbury promised to give the mat-ter his earliest consideration.

menced this morning. As the readers of the Post-Disparch know the first payment on the Laciede stock, amounting to $50 a share, was made some time ago. This morning the final payment commenced and to the surprise of many of the stockhoiders interest was allowed from the date of the acceptance of the agreement until the present time. This amounts to 50 cents a share, and each holder who has elected to take cash can receive $120.50 for each share of stock.

BONDS OF THE CONSOLIDATION.

The amount of stock offered for redemption was much larger than had been anticipated. Nearly all of the principal holders elected to take cash instead of bonds and stock, and some of the small holders pursued the same course. The amount of money paid out at 40 clock was nearly $700,000. A private letter was received from Hollins & Co., stating that bids would soon be advertised for bonds and that they would be placed on the market about the middle of June. Interest will cease to-day.

Who Murdered the Child?

An inquest was this morning held by Corone male child which was found in a vault in the rear of 309 South Sixth street, last night, by William Foster and Conrad Ludwig. Nothing has as yet been learned concerning the parentage of the child, but there is a strong suspicion of foul play. Superintendent of the Morgue Praedicow thinks the infant was over 10 days old when it died. A post mortem will be held and the case fully investigated.

Gen. Farrar Calls on the President but Get No Encouragement—A Boost for George Bain—Col, Metcalfe's Indorsements pointed - The Star Route Contracts Washington News.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29.—A local paper says some flattering words in behalf of George Bain of St. Louis as a business man thoroughly equipped for the Glasgow con-sulate, in contention with a New Hampshire paper which urges the retention of Mr. Un derwood in that position on account of his literary attainments. Among the guests at "Cobb's" Col. Metcalf was found this morning making preparations for his departure this afternoon, if possible. If he does leave for St. Louis he will get away to-morrow. The Colonel feels very much disinted at the delay in making the St. Louis appointments, but consoles himself in having the biggest batch of indorsements on file in the Treasury Department.

Instead of returning to Kansas City, Dr. Wm. Fitzpatrick, candidate for Surveyor of the Port, at the request of Gen. Shields accompanied the latter to Decatur, Ala. As the Assistant Attorney-General represents the administration on this trip, the doctor may congratulate himself on his chances for apcongratulate himself of all the pointment.

About the middle of next week Gen. Bernard Farrar will return to St. Louis. He cannot realize why there should be a delay in appointing him Sub-Treasurer so long, as no one else has asked for the place. He is not despondent, however, and expects something else if there is to be delay in removing Mr. Schultz. Gen. Farrar called upon the President to day, but received no encouragement as to the office he wants.

Hiram Smith of Cameron, Mo., yesterday qualified as Assistant Pension Commissioner. He then left for his home by way of Mt. Clement, Mich., where he will tarry for a few days. He will reach Cameron about June 10.

No official will surrender his nonors with deeper regret than Col. Switzler of the Bureau of Statistics, who is on his way West to-day. He is now convinced that his successor will be appointed in a short time.

Col. A. W. Jones of Independence, Mo., was at the Post-office Department to-day and filed ad ditional papers in support of his friend James for postmaster at Independence. He did not have an interview with the Postmaster-General. Additional papers have been filed by Mr. Bullene. No further charges or complaints have been brought to the department. Further developments in this case are not expected for some time, for, as stated in these dispatches Saturday, the Postmaster-General has decided not to move in the matter at present.

The Mentone Affair.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29 .- Mr. Gilber Van Nostrand of Newburg, N. Y., arrived on the midnight train Monday night and drove the midnight train Monday night and drove immediately to the Hotel Arno, where Secretary Tracy and his family are located. The Van Nostrands and the family of Secretary Tracy are intimate personal friends and the Secretary is very much exercised over the treatment his friends received in France and proposes to have the matter thoroughly looked into. Mr. Van Nostrand in company with Secretary Tracy went to the State Department in the morning simply to pay his respects, but Secretary Blaine was not in the department. Mr. Van Nostrand will have a special audience with Secretary Blaine to-day. Mr. Van Nostrand will have a special audience with Secretary Blaine to-day. Mr. Van Nostrand was one of the party who went to Mt. Vernon on the Despatch yesterday morning on the excursion given by Secretary Blaine in honor of the English Minister. Sir Julian Pauncefots. Mr. Van Nostrand is naturally indignant at the treatment of his sisters by the French authorities and said that he intended to press the matter with all the ability in his power to bring these outrageous violators of the law and decency to a prompt account. As before mentioned, Secretary Tracy is very much interested in the case and will accompany Mr. Van Nostrand to the State Department to-day and present his case to Secretary Blaine.

MINISTER REID'S DISPATCH.

A cable was received from Minister Reid last night acknowledging the receipt of the instructions of Mr. Blaine in this matter, and saying that he would cause a thorough investigation of the case to be made and advise the department of the result by cable. The matter was quite a theme on the trip of the Despatch and the ladies of the party, some of whom had had similar experiences while abroad, were outspoken in their condemnation. Secretary Blaine said that he would have a thorough sifting of the matter and would insist upon the punishment. mmediately to the Hotel Arno, where Secr

It is expected that a report in the case will be received from Minister Reid in the course of a few days when the State Department will be in a position to act in a decisive manner. The department will not be satisfied with an apology from the French officials. That must come in the course of events, but with it must appear also the dismissal from office of these offending parties.

Secretary Tracy said that if there was a law on the statute book to reach these people it would be carried out to the full letter and as the courtesies of international relations bethat he would have a thorough sifting of the

MR. VAN NOSTRAND'S STATEMENT.
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29.—Gardner Van Nostrand, the brother of one of the American ladies who were arrested in Mentone, France, at the instigation of a milliner, was at the Department of State this morning. He made a formal statement of the case, which contained nothing in addition to what has already been published, except a sworn statement of his sister, which agrees in all material points with that made by Mrs. Porr. The papers have been flied and the department will look into the case.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29 .- In the mat ter of the Star Route contracts, suspended by Second Assistant Postmaster-General Whitfield, because of apparent illegal, if not fraudulent execution, illegal, if not fraudulent execution, the Assistant Attorney-General for the Post-coffice Department has just rendered a decision He holds the entire series of contracts, amounting to some $147,000, to be illegal and void. The proposals upon which the contracts were based, and which were filed in the office of the Second Assistant Postmaster-General in January last, while said to be irregular in many respects, are not deemed absolutely void. The Assistant Attorney-General holds that based upon these proposals new contracts, properly and legally executed, with good and sufficient bonds, may be received. The opinion of the Assistant Attorney-General is very full, and recites at length the exculpatory evidence presented by the contractors and their attorneys.

The Carondelet Cadets rendered a delightful entertainment to a large concourse of people last evening at Blow's mansion on Virginia avenue. The old mansion, which is one of the few landmarks of old "Vide Pouche," was magnificently decorated with flags, lanterns and bunting, which made the old-fashioned halls look new and bright. The affair was given to raise funds to purchase uniforms and arms for the cadets. After the entertainment dancing was indulged in until the midnight hour. The ladies who had charge of the affair deserve much credit for the manner in which they managed the evening's programme. It was a grand success, the boys realizing a snug sum of $190. A THING OF BEAUTY NOW, The Great Changes Recorder Hobbs Hs Made in His Office.

During the past two days the Recorder Deeds' office has undergone a wonderfu change. Those who have had business wit the old office before the change, are struck with astonishment when they enter it not and were it not for the and were it not for the familiar faces behind the counter would doubt that the present is the same Recorder's Office. For fifteen years a short, low, uncomfortable counter has spanned the room from north to south, and along this counter, which was about twelve feet long, was transacted all the business of the marriage license, recording, delivering and releasing departments which has now grown to enormous dimensions. Back of this short, black and ink-stained barrier were several dozen clerks, part in the employ of the Recorder and the other part employed by investigators of titles. There was hardly room to turn around. Window sills and the bottom of chairs were used as desks and a state of affairs existed which could not be found jn any office in the city government and made many wonder how the business transacted could possibly be correctly transcribed on the books. For more than a year Recorder Hobbs has begged and pleaded with the City Fathers for relief. He begged for more room and more clerks and though they were told the office was no larger now and had no more clerks than it had ten years ago, no attention was paid to these pleadings until a week or so ago. Finally the Municipal Assembly yielded and the change was made. A counter 6 feet wide, mounted with brass lattice work, with windows extends from one end of the room to the other, affording ample room for the daily transactions of this period, and for years to come. The counter is divided into three departments, the receiving, deiar faces behind the counter would doub room to the other, affording ample room for the daily transactions of this period, and for years to come. The counter is divided into three departments, the receiving, delivery and releasing. The marriage license department, under the care of Theodore Hoorman has been moved into a private, carpeted office in the hall adjoining a private office of the Recorder. More room has been made, more desks added, and the scene is pleasant to look upon. A system of arranging the tons of books and papers belonging to the office is about to be introduced, and instead of it being a dusty task to look up a deed or book as heretofore, it will be a pleasure and a matter of only a few seconds. Only one thing in the transformation scene is yet to be changed and that is the pay roll and the number of clerks. In no office of the city government or in any Recorder's office for the city government or in any Recorder's office for office in the number of clerks. In no office of the city government or in any Recorder's office for office in the first worked so hard and so poorly paid. Mr. Hobbs is now trying to get the Coucil committee to understand this and they show some signs of comprehension. Even as it is the change so far made is greater than any change in the Recorder's office for fifteen years. It is the result of two years' unremitting hard labor on the part of Mr. Hobbs, who has been moved in the Recorder's office for fifteen years. It is the result of two years' unremitting hard labor on the part of Mr. Hobbs, who has been moved in the Recorder's office for fifteen years. It is the result of two years' unremitting hard labor on the part of Mr. Hobbs, who has been somewhat handicapped by his political belief.

THE DECORATION DAY QUESTION.

The unpleasantness which has arisen between the School Board and the local members of the G. A.I R. over the question of granting a holiday to the school chil-200 dren on Decoration Day is unfortunate for several reasons.

One of the reasons for regret is that the action of the School Board in refusing to make the 30th a holiday is capable of a misinterpretation abroad which shall place St. Louis in an unfavorable light. It gives opportunity for malicious critics to assert that the school authorities of this city were lacking in patriotism and were willing to deny public honors to the valiant dead who died for the preservation of the Union. The absurdity of this charge will not prevent howling fanatics from casting reflections on the people of St. Louis.

The School Board doubtless acted from sense of duty in accordance with a new policy which had just been outlined with regard to school holidays. That policy on general principles is entirely defensible and commends itself to the people as right and proper. In stating that children whose parents desire them to participate in the memorial exercises will be excused without depriving others of school privileges the board has given a ground of justification for its action.

On the other hand, the resentment of the veterans of the G. A. R. and the criticism of the action of the board are in a large degree justified. The scant courtesy shown the communication of the G. A. R. committee cannot be excused. Nor was it proper for the board to class Decoration Day with the ordinary picnic holidays. The sentiment which devotes one day in the year to strewing with flowers the graves of the brave men who died for their country is altogether praiseworthy. The custom is beautiful and honorable. e line of electoral reform It is a patriotic duty to observe it. It is also a patriotic duty to impress upon the ood care to acquit all of minds of the children the value of the services of the men who fought to preserve the blessings of a free and united country and to teach them to cherish feelings of deep gratitude and respect for

In no other way can this lesson of patriotism be so firmly implanted on their minds as by devoting one day to honoring the dead soldiers.

It would have been entirely proper for the School Board to have observed the custom by giving at least a half-holiday to all the children. There is more or less demoralization attending excusing part of the pupils and if, with the holiday, the children should be given instruction as to its significance the occasion would be of important educational value in the training of American citizens.

A QUEER APPOINTMENT.

There was a good deal of rank perjury in the effort to make a case against good results in bringing Tucker, Saunders and other Confederate agents in Canada, connecting them with the assassination of President Lincoln and other crimes, but no court-martial or civil court ever found them guilty or punished them. Some of the witnesses against them, however, were afterwards exposed to infamy, and a repetition of the testimony against Rev. STUART ROB-INSON involved some newspapers in libel suits which they were glad to get out of

by the retraction and apology method. But it is preposterous to say or suppose that either BLAINE or HARRISON was ignorant of the testimony before the Surratt court-martial when they appointed one of its members, Gen. LEW WALLACE, and BEVERLY TUCKER envoys to Hayti. That testimony was published and discussed in the papers far and wide from 1865 to 1870 and later and no public man of such prominence as BLAINE and HARRISON at that time should try to plead ignorance or forgetfulness of the charges against BEVERLY TUCKER and the other Confederate Commissioners in Canada. The appointment only shows that loyal lobby services rendered or to be rendered to the Blaine-Elkins jobbing interest overbalances all blots in political and personal records. Its revocation in compliance with a loud protest from the G. A. R. men indicates that the President discovered, not a moment too soon, the temperature of the coals that were to be raked out with his paw for the Elkins-Blaine-Davis copart-

THE story of mismanagement unfolded in the New York WORLD's Panama correspondence fully explains how the De dof, the newspapers, because Lesseps canal became such a costly failure. Contracts were let without inviting of justice. Maxwell would proposals, and one firm of contractors, in which CHARLES DE LESSEPS is said to have ity given to every detail of been a silent partner, made 6,000,000 francs in three years. Eighteen thousand kegs of spikes ordered from a New York firm cost the company $1 per spike. Cargoes of coal and stone were paid for which the company never received. It seems that there was a monster fraud in the letting of every large contract, and that the company was swindled by its own managers and agents from the beginning. At the rate they were going they could have absorbed ten times the estimate of the entire cost without half completing the work.

MR. CONNORS. Mr. Ledlie's assistant felt a current of all coming through the pipe and said it smelt sulphurous, like gas. Mr. Ledlie ordered them to touch a light to it, and when they did so, a flame shot up into the air a couple of feet and continued to burn. "It was not a steady flame, however," re-marked Mr. Ledlie, "but shot up and down n spurts. When we removed the top pipe the flame appeared at the mouth of the lower pipe and when we removed it the flame disapdently run in and filled the hole. Afterward we sunk the pipe in the same hole, but the gas did not burn. We have bored at points about twenty-five feet and about fity feet from there and struck no gas so I think this was probably only a pocket formation and of no value. The pressure was very light and the gas had a strong smell, whereas natural gas is almost if not entirely odorless. I have no idea the discovery amounts to anything and we will not attempt to work on it any further unless MR. SPRAUL, the General Superintendent of the brewery, orders us to do so. I have not been able to see him since the discovery was made. We struck the gas right at the top of the gas did not burn. We have bored

The ground is all made ground, having formerly been part of the river bed and it is not likely that natural gas would be found there. The pressure was so slight, I scarcely think it would have lifted a blotter and the flame was not more than about two feet long."

"Could there be natural gas below the rock?"

"Could there be natural gas below the rock?"

"I do not know, but don't think there is, and will not drill for it unless instructed to do so. The whole matter will be laid before Mr. Spraul. The account in this morning's paper about the find is greatly exaggerated. There was no 6-foot flame and no such pressure as described, and I really have very little confidence in natural gas in paying quantity existing there. We quit work shortly after noon yesterday on account of the rain, which also prevented us from doing anything there to-day. I shall go on with my soundings, regardless of the natural gas discovery, unless otherwise instructed."

IT IS GENERALLY BELIEVED that Mr. Ledlie has a little more confidence in the discovery than his conversation would indicate, but he does not want to declare he has struck natural gas until he is positive there is

Mrs. Emma O'Rourke's Child Taken From

Her in Court-Legal Notes. The trial of the O'Rourke habeas corpu case in Judge Fisher's court has brought to light a queer colony of people on Cedar and Almond streets who flourish on divorces. family brawls and street fights, acording t the testimony of witnesses. Thomas O'Rourke married Miss Emma Bauman June, 1886, and the result of that nuion is a child, Margaret, 22 months old, a divorce case and this habeas corpus proceed-ings. O'Rourke is an Irishman and all on the other side of the family are German. Two months after marriage trouble began in the other side of the family are German. Two months after marriage trouble began in the family and during the two years of married life the wife left her husband eight times. She charged him with beating and maltreating her and not furnishing her money to maintain the household. On the other hand he charged her with infidelity and lack of parental regard. He also said she took a dose of Paris green while the child was at breast, and it was only by his prompt action that he prevented her giving the child the same poison. As a consequence of this deed the child had to be taken from her. He said further the was subject to fits, would foam at the mouth, tear out her hair, and at times kiss the child and a moment later try to strangle it. As an example of the class of witnesses examined the testimony of a young man will show. He said he was divorced March 25 of this year and married again May 15. He was the father of a child, but not by his first wife. A Mirs. Wiegand said she was present one day when Mr. O'Rourse called on his wife to see the child, and they got into a quarrel. In a few minutes the father and mother and four brothers of the wife were on the scene and wild west show started on the sidewells. a few minutes the father and mother and four brothers of the wife were on the scene and a wild west show started on the sidewalk. Mrs. Wiegand said she was hit in the face and a pole fell on her. When she recovered she found Mr. O'Rourke lying senseless in a passage-way with a wound in the back of his head. That happened several times when the husband called around to see the baby and finally he stole it from a stable where it was playing under the feet of a horse. After hearing iffteen witnesses on both sides 'Judge Fisher remanded the child to the custody of the father, who has it now, and allows the mother to call and see it on Wednesdays and Sundays. The husband relented a little and allowed the child to be taken in her arms and kissed, which she did most fervently, crying all the while, but he held on to one arm. Then he carried it off triumphantly while she remained and cried it out with her mother.

Judge Fisher granted a decree of divorce this morning to Mrs. Mary Ernstine Achey, with vagrancy and refusly to provide for his family. They were married Lynn Co., Kan., in 1878 and soparated in 1886. He returned in 1888 and since then his wife states he has been a vagrant in the eyes of the law. A description of the Brooklyn factory which the company $105,000. cost the company $105,000. Apartments were also fitted up for the Friends at a cost of $30,000. It was about this time that the English investors grew suspicious and Howard was called on for an afildavit. He swore that he was with the professor during two demonstrations and that the refined sugar shown was positively the product of the raw sugar sent by the company. Howard got $100 for this affidavit. In a letter Cotterili wrote to Howard he said he was going to talk, to the professor seriously about the sugar, as the English investors were becoming uneasy, and Howard in reply urged him to say nothing to the "professor." whose nerves were "unstrung." In the same letter he said the professor had discharged a workman because he was "crooked." "For you know," he added, "crooked men stand no chance with the professor."

It has been given out that the District Attorney's office has accepted the assistance of four detectives to be paid for by a citizens' committee. The identity of this committee is a mystery. Their names would, it is said, be a guarantee of honesty of purpose if given to the public, but they are withheld at the urgent request of the citizens.

This may all be, but their efforts are not as effective as those of the Citizens' Committee of two years ago. What is apparently intended as a showing of non-partisanship is made in the appointment of two Democrats and two Republicans in the investigating corps. This character of representation is criticised considerably. It is really intended to remove all possibility of escapes through party sympathy the only way, it is contended, is to do as was done three years: ago when a Democratic District Attorney called to his aid in the Grand-jury-room as a special assistant a Republican prosecutor. District-Attorney Reynolds, though new in the office and its numerous duties, has given no intimation as yet that he will follow the example of his Democratic predecessor.

The correctness of this interpretation cannot ho wever be vouched for, as Coal Oil Inspector Baggott is not in the confidence of the Governor. In fact there is considerable bad feeling existing between them. It is claimed that Inspector Baggott, who now says it would be wrong to cut down the fees of the office for his successor, worked hard to secure the passage of the bill providing for the reduction. letie Club asking rould give for a fight between McAuliffe and Carney. Billy writes to the Sun to say that Jack will fight any of the men named, first come first served. If Myer won't fight to a finish before he leaves for the West, McAuliffe will make a match with him for a ten-round go. This would draw a great house, and according to a conversation which Myer had with a reporter, he would be will-ing to make such a match. The Southern Athletic Club of Los Angeles asked Madden what purse McAuliffe would meet Myer for, and Billy replied, "Anything that suits Myer." Nothing could be fairer than this. Billy Myer, the Streator lad, will close his nt with the theatrical company with which he has been traveling, on Saturday ening, Jack Hopper having signed in his tead for an eighteen weeks' trip. Myer says he will now devote his time in the endeavor to get on a match with Jack McAuliffe. He was seen yesterday afternoon by a reporter and said among other things: "I came here to see the Eastern country and entered on a two weeks' contract with a company to help defray expenses. While here I paid a visit to Mr. Fox, and during a conversation with him he asked me if I could whip McAuliffe. I said I did not know, but would try. He then offered to bet me $1,000 that I could not and as I only had $950 in my clothes I planked down $500 as a forfeit tor a match of $2,500 with McAuliffe. I told Mr. Fox that of course this was my own money and that it had a string to it, but when Jack showed up to cover it my backer would send on a check at once. Do I think I could defeat McAuliffe? Well now I never said I could whip anyone, but when in the ring I can fight for any man's money. I would rather meet McAuliffe for $10 as ideand we could both fight without the worriment of losing many friends who would most likely bet large sums of money." Exallerman Pat Farley, who is an ardent admirer of the Brooklyn boy, said: "I will back Jack to the extent of $1,000 to a fight to a finish with Myer at any time, the match to be decided within two hundred miles of New York." A fight between these two men would create no end of interest in Eastern sporting circles.

Transport of the middle Tra weight championship took place at their cooms at San Francisco last night. It was be tween Mike Lucie of Philadelphia and George La Bianche (the Marine) of Boston. It was La Bianche (the Marine) of Boston. It was Queensberry rules and to a finish. La Bianche weighed 155 and Lucie 154 pounds.

Neither did much in the first round. In the second Lucie got in several blows, but the Marine held himself well together and landed on Lucie's wind and chin. Lucie was awarded first blood in the third, landing on the Marine's lip. Honors were about even, however. LaBlanche forced the fighting in the fourth round, but Lucle nimbly kept out of his way and landed several blows. At the end of the round the exchanges were even, however. Lucie showed to the better advantage in the fifth. In the sixth he cleverly stopped two rushes made by La Blanche and was cool at the close, while the Marine was breathing hard. There was little done in the seventh, but in the eighth the fighting was furlous, with Lucle landing most blows. La Blanche gave him two telling upper cuts in the ninth and in the tenth he floored Lucie twice. The Marine landed several right and left hand swings in the eleventh round, while Lucie was hitting wildly. La Blanche forced the fighting and his superior generalship was telling on his rival. The round ended by Lucie hitting La Blanche again forced the fighting in the twelfth round and followed Lucie around the ring, raining right and left handers in his face. Lucie fell, but rose a second before the close of the round badly dazed from a lefthander. He came up very groggy in the thirteenth round and the Marine knocked him flat on his back with a light right-hander. At the end of ten seconds he arose uninjured, but La Blanche had been awarded the fight.

Track Talk.

Track Talk.

The track was knee-deep in mud this morning. All the racers were kept bundled up in blankets.

The horsemen here are congratulating themselves and the Fair Association that the bad weather of the past few days came before the meeting.

J. B. Ferguson, the starter at Lexington and Louisville, has been secured for the St. Louis meeting. He has had great success in filling this difficult position.

Longfish, a St. Louis Derby candidate, who will be a sure starter, distinguished himself at Louisville yesterday by beating the phenomenal Proctor Knott for second place in the Himyar stakes in a driving finish. Come-to-Taw won the race.

It is hardly probable that the track can be gotten into condition for racing to-morrow unless the sun should come out very bright and warm. There will be no trouble in getting it in good shape, however, for Saturday if the rain lets up before to-morrow night.

The St. Louis Derby promises to be the best

The St. Louis Derby promises to be the best betting Derby yet run. With Don Jose, Heron, Longfish, Glockner, Sportsman, Cassius, and the unknown quantities, John Duffy and Le Premier, facing the starter, there will be a great diversity of opinion as to which will capture the honor.

great diversity of opinion as to which will capture the honor.

The last of the St. Louis Jocky Club's running matinees is to take place at the Fair Grounds track to morrow afternoon. There will be five events, a half-mile for 2-year-olds, a five furiongs dash, a dash of three-quarters of a mile, a selling race of seven furiongs and a steeplechase over the short course.

On the same that the announcement of the Czar's death at Council Bluffs, Io., was printed, the telegraph contained an account of how Jim Guest's promising colt Heron had injured himself so badly in a car jen route to Louisville that he would not be fit for racing again this year and in all probability was permanently disabled. The accident was greatly regretted by those interested in racing in St. Louis, Heron being looked upon as a sure starter and a probable winner of the St. Louis Derby. If the reports of horsemen, who are in the city at present, are true, and there is no reason to doubt that they are, the reported great injury to Heron was given out as a blind. The coft. they say, is in fine condition, and if he don't win the derby they will be much surprised. Guest has all along claimed that he had another Terra Cotta in Heron, and there is every reason to believe that Heron's injuries were greatly exaggerated in order to cut down the odds on him.

Ambruster's Bide. Joe Ambruster, the bicyclist who left here to ride to Denver on his wheel, writes from Wa Keeney, Kan., under date of May 25 as "I am now about half way between Kansas City and Denver, or about two-thirds of the entire distance from St. Louis. We have had plenty of rain since I left St. Louis and I have had the full benefit of all of it, invariably being out on the road when a storm came up. I was delayed at Hays City until 1:30 to-day on account of a heavy rain last night. I left Hays City at 1:30 p. m. and arrived here, thirty-two miles west, at 6:30 p. m. The roads as far west as Junction City were anything but good. In the bottoms, where the roads are low down, the farmers have filled them up with black mud—"gumbo"—and after a rain wagon wheels sink eighteen inches in the mud, to say nothing of a bicycle. From Junction City west the roads are better and at Brookville the prairie road is rolling with a slight but steady incline towards the west. This incline is not very great, but is enough to keep a cyclist awake. This place is 321 miles west of Kansas City by rail or about 350 by wagon road. Denver is still 317 miles west of here, but with fair weather I expect to reach it within a week. I have now been on the road twenty days and have had ten rainy days, or in other words one rainy day for every good day." "I am now about half way between Kansa

The present storm has been on since last Friday morning, although umbrellas and gossamers have not been in constant use. The rainfall of the period has not been phe nomenally heavy, though the length of time occupied by the clouds in emptying themselves on St. Louis has led the public to think so. LATE SPRING PLOWING.

In the present soaked condition of the ground this would be impossible, and unless a clearing comes soon the late crops will be seriously short. The anxiety in regard to small fruits is very great. No strawberry season ever opened more propitiously, but if the present weather continues the fruit on the vines will be ruined. The wet weather has materially increased the size of the berries offered for sale in the markets, but has seriously decreased the quality-the largest strawberries ever seen in this vicinity were shown in Union Market to-day, Much greater increase in size would necessitate the service of a carving set with berries at the table.

The muddy condition of the sidewalk could perhaps be tolerated, but when the citizens are not permitted even the use of the sidewalk, but are obliged to wade through the street, then, figuratively speaking, they think they have airight to kick. To kick, that is to go through the physical action, would of course be impossible. It is the custom of the employes of the foundry, so the complainants aver, to use the sidewalk as a repository for stakes from which they lift rails into wagons. There is nothing for the pedestrians to do, therefore, if they wish to get by, but to cross around by way of the street. As Twelith street is the first thoroughlare west of Seventh, on which residents of the South Side can cross the Mill Creek Valley, there is naturally a large number who use it, especially in the mornings and evenings, and they are talking of bringing the matter before the Mayor unless the nuisance is abated.

arise from the cellar. Yesterday the stench became absolutely unbearable and John-Dussick, the janitor of the house, finally called in Policeman Kane of the Sixty-seventh Street Police Station to investigate the matter. The policeman thought that the odor came from the three rooms occupied by Mrs. Bridget Hanrahan, a widow who, with her 18-year-old son John, lived on the first floor. He burst in the front door of their apartments and as he did so John Hanrahan rose from a lounge and staggered toward the policeman. He was apparently in a maudiin state of intoxication and astecking condition. Continuing his investigation, with a handkerchief pressed to his nose, the policeman waded through a mass of rags to a rear room and finally reached a little bedroom behind this apartment.

On the bed lay the body of Mrs. Hanrahan aiready black from decomposition. The peliceman rapped for assistance and took young Hanrahan to the station-house, whence he was speedily taken to Believue Hospital. The woman's body was sent to the morgue by Police Captain Gunner, who also directed the Board of Health to disinfect the premises, which are in a condition that places the lives of the tenants in peril. The discovery of the body creased much excitement and no little Indignation in East Sixtleth street. For hours the street in front of the big tenement house was packed with people. It was learned that Mrs. Hanrahan was 50 years of age.

Cornelius Mishoney of No. 772 Second avenue, a second cousin of the dead woman, said he was her only relative besides her son in this city. He had not agen her for months. Until two years ago she had been employed as a domestic by Paul Bach, on East Seventy-second street. She had accumulated a little money and was living upon it. Three months ago she moved with her son who is a carpenter, seemed to be drunk much of the time and rarely worked. For many days the people in the house had not seen her. By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

New York, May 29.—Mrs. Sheridan, widow of Gen. Phil Sheridan, has been seriously ill ness two years ago. Dr. O'Reilly is attending ness two years ago. Dr. O'Relly is attending Mrs. Sheridan, and said last night that while the phases of her disease were alarming, he did not consider her case hopeless. She is, however, extremely ill, and suffering intense agony. Last Sunday as the little Sheridan girls were at mass at St. Matthew's the announcement was made that the mass on Ascension Thursday (Decoration Day) would be for the repose of the soul of Gen. Sheridan and the soldiers who fell in battle for their country.

A pleasant surprise is awaiting those who visit the ladies' waiting-room and restaurant at the Union Depot. The rooms have been repainted and beautifully decorated, so that now they present a bright and charming appearance. The benches in the waiting room have been touched up and in the dining room the ceiling has been exquisitely frescoed. The ware has all been substituted for a new equipment, and the spotless cloths, polished china and silver utensits present a very inviting appearance. A score of tidy watters serve the guests in a prompt and courteous manner and the viands are unsurpassable. The lunch counters in both the ladies' and gentlemen's waiting rooms have not been neglected. The mirror frames have been repolished, and the counters themselves have been newly offed and varnished. They are loaded with tempting delicacies. The shiny urns and glassware on the shelves make the place very attractive. Automatic fans have been placed behind the shelves at great cost, but the cost was inconsiderable compared with the comfort the guests will have in eating there during the warm weather. They work perfectly, and no matter how hot it may be the counters will be cool and comfortable all during the summer. The whole place is charming, and however dingy the Union Depot may be there are no brighter places than the restaurants. repainted and beautifully decorated, so that

Tuesday night burglars visited the house of Deputy Recorder David Schmidt at Clayton, St. Louis County. Mr. Schmidt was awakened by a slight sound in his bedroom and was in-stantly made aware of chloroform in the air. He leaped from his bed, discovered men in his room and fired at them, but they es-caped to a wagon standing near the house and drove away.

THE "NO FLOWERS" ORDER.

A High School Graduate Writes Her Opinio of the Board's Decree.

The sweet girl graduates of the High School have soured on the School Board on accoun of the "no flowers" order. Their disappoint ment has not been in the least dissipated, as the following communication received this morning from "One of the Graduates". will show:

St. Louis, May 27, '89.

The girls of the graduating class of the High School read the article concerning them in Saturday evening's paper and are very indignant overlt.

In the first place we did not "kick." That is a term which does not fit the case. Whoever wrote that article does not understand the ways of girls or he would have used another term. We are angry, yes, and exceedingly disappointed. We have been looking forward to this event for the past year and now to think the prettiest part of our exercises must be omitted. As for our having calmed down, whoever told the reporter so was sadly misinformed. The only thing in favor of "no flowers" is that the feelings of some may be saved—but-let me tell you a secret—there was not one in our whole class who would not have received one at least.

As to the dress matter, it is to be supposed least.

As to the dress matter, it is to be supposed that our mothers know a little more about the suitability of a costume than a set of men whose heads are filled with dreams of "futures," etc.

In future, if that reporter has anything to say concerning us, will be please be so kind as to have some regard for the finess othings.

NOTES.

Scott H. Blewett, the principal of the Stoddard School, intends to make a trip to Europe this summer and has been granted leave of absence from June 8 to October 1, with prombe of pay and position.

There will be a special meeting of the Building Committee of the School Board this evening to examine the plans and specifications, which will be presented by Architect Singleton, for the improvement of the school during the vacation. The schools close on June and and preparations for the closing exercises are now being made.

Supt. Soldan of the High School is determined that this year the programmes of the High School exercises shall not be printed until he gives them out, and has taken precantionary measures to carry out his resolution.

Blood Poison-Suffered All a Man Could Suffer and Live-Face and Body Covered With Awful Sores-Used the Cuticura Kemedies Ten Weeks and is Practically Cured-A Bemarkable Case.

I contracted a terrible blood-polsoning a year ago I doctored with two good physicians, neither of whom did me any good. I suffered all a man can suffer and live. Hearing of your CUTICURA REME-DIES I concluded to try them, knowing if they did DIES I concluded to try them, knowing if they did me no good they could make me no worse. I have been using them about ten weeks, and am most happy to say that I am almost rid of the awful sores that covered my face and body. My face was as bad, if not worse than that of Miss Boynton, spoken of in your book, and I would say to any one in the same condition, to use CUTICUEA, and they will surely be cured. You may use this letter in the interest of suffering humanity.

E. W. REYNOLDS, Ashland, O. Covered With Bunning Sores 17 Years I have been froubled with a skin and scalp disease for seventeen years. My head at times was one running sore, and my body was covered with them as large as a haif dollar. I tried a great many remedies without effect until I used the CUTICULA REMEDIES, and am thankful to state that after two months of their use I am entirely cured. I feel it my duty to you and the public to state the above case.

L. R. McDOWELL, Jamesburg, N. J. Dug and Scratched 38 Years. Igo Mr. Dennis Downing ten years better. I have dug and scratched for thirty-eight years. I had what is termed pruritis, and have suffered everything and irled a number of doctors, but got no relief. Any-body could have got $506 had they cured me. The CUTICURA REMEDIES CURED me. God bless the man who invented CUTICURA!
